UAE Involvement in International Issues

International issues are those affecting people on a global scale. Some current international issues include climate change, international terrorism, diseases, and the current Syrian refugee crisis. Start by selecting a topic, which is affecting people around the world, and then research this topic. Start broadly by finding a definition of this issue. Who is being affected? Who is involved? When did this problem begin and what is the UAE doing to help? Depending on your topic you may want to look at government and organization websites. You will need to understand what has caused this problem and what is currently going on with this issue. What does the future look like for the countries involved with this issue? The UAE Government has policies for how they deal with and interact with specific issues, these will be important to understand. Here are some websites that identify current issues facing our world:

- United Nations Global Issues
- UAE Ministry of Foreign Affairs
- International Affairs Review
